Dear Colleague

I am writing to urge you to join the International Society on General Relativity and Gravitation (ISGRG). With the recent celebrations surrounding the centenary in 2015 and the spectacular 2016 measurement of gravitational waves from black-hole mergers, general relativity and gravitation are riding high, and there has never been a better time to join the Society. Joining is important: you will support the Society, help us support research in gravitational physics and mathematics around the world, and be part of an outstanding international network.

The Society is involved in many activities, including running the triennial GRn conferences, sponsoring the Hyperspace@aei website which displays useful information for researchers in our field, publishing a journal (General Relativity and Gravitation), and representing the gravitational physics community in the International Union of Pure and Applied Physics (IUPAP). The Society also awards prizes, including the annual IUPAP Young Scientist Prize and two triennial prizes: the Ehlers thesis prize for classical general relativity and the Bergmann-Wheeler thesis prize for quantum gravity.

The main reason for joining ISGRG is to be part of this great community and support our efforts to promote research in gravitational physics and mathematics, but there are practical benefits as well. These include:

- 1) Members receive 20% discounts on books at Cambridge University Press, Springer, and World Scientific.
- 2) Members receive a substantial discount for registration at the triennial GRn meetings.
- 3) Members receive discounted subscription to the GRG journal.

The dues are only $35 per year, $95 for three years, and life memberships are available for $420. Student memberships are available for only $10. Further information is available on our website: <http://www.isgrg.org>.

Sincerely,

Eric Poisson
ISGRG President
